The history of our past will mold the outcome of our future. How we choose to let our past affect us will determine if that outcome is positive or negative. Such is the case with Randall Garland, who grew up in a very small rural town in North Texas. Born with a love for music, Randall began singing and playing the piano at the age of five. Because of his passion for the arts he battled with being bullied by his peers throughout High School. Randall was driven to the point of a dark depression and ready to end his own life, until one very unforgettable day... Today, Randall's personal testimony of conquering bullying and depression is taking him all over the world and changing lives.

Randall's desire and focus to make a difference is clear. His incredible tenor vocal talent is second to none, but his ability to connect with an audience is what sets him apart. The presentations are sincere and heartfelt, and his energy on stage is absolutely contagious. He is definitely a force to be reckoned with. It only takes one evening at a Randall Garland concert to understand why pastors, music ministers and concert promoters all over the world are calling on Randall Garland to help them make a "change".
